In the bills prohibiting the sale of intoxicants at fairs an opportunity is afforded the Assembly to strike a real blow for true temperance. These bills seek to correct an indisputable evil through proper restriction in accordance with the existing policy of the State.

The Seven Hills.

Please name for me the seven hills which Richmond is supposed to occupy.

MISS G. P. F.

"Supposed" is very good. There is no more foundation for the idea that this city ever occupied any seven hills han for the notion that Rome did or decrease.

North Carolina Senator.

Governor Vance, of North Carolina, has appointed ilon. Edwin G. Reade to fill the vacancy in the Confederate States Senate made vacant by the resignation of Senator Davis. Mr. Reade will hold the seat only until the 15th of February, when Governor Graham, who has been elected for the full term by the North Carolina Legislature, will be sworn in.

A Confederate Murdered.

Last week the Yankee General Wilde, who is overrunning parts of North Carolina, was guilty of the deliberate murder of Private Bright, of the Sixtysecond Georgia Regiment. Bright was captured, and being taken to the headquarters of Wilde, he was charged with "bushwhacking," and without even the semblance of a trial he was ordered hung by Wilde. He was swung to a tree and stranged to death. Wilde then had a paper planed to the clothing on the dead body upon which was written "A warning to bushwhackers," and the body was left hanging. At night brave men and women sought the place, cut the body down and buried it in the soil of Carrituek County.

Robbers at Work.

Daniel Lane, a prominent citizen of Powhatan County, was attacked near the corner of Twelfth and Cary Streets last night by three garrotors. He was knocked down with a slungshot, but being a very powerful man he quickly regained his feet, and drawing his pistol, fired upon the men, wounding one of them. The others fled, carrying with them their wounded companion. Mr. Lane had over $500 in his pocket, which he had drawn from bank about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and it is presumed the would-be robbers knew this fact.

General Lee's Pardon.

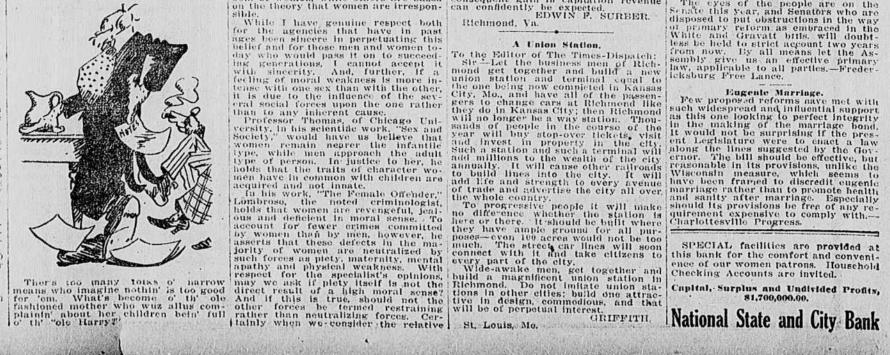

Just before the hour set for the shooting of a deserter who had been sentenced to death last week a pardon from General Lee came and the man was released. General Lee granted this pardon because of the action of the man's wife. It was learned that when he deserted the army and went home his wife told him that while it was a torture to be separated from him, and to know that he was in constant danger, she could not bear the thought of having him to leave the front when honor and patriotism called him there, and she at once informed the officers of his whereabouts.

THE LATEST WOMAN'S CLUB REFORM.

York to which my attention was directed by Hon. John S. Barbour.

The case is reported in 51 Barbour (N. Y.), at page 19, and was decided in 1868.

In brief, it is as follows:

An autograph letter of George Washington, addressed to the plaintiff, in 1785, somehow fell into the possession of John Allan, who held possession for about thirty years. At his death possession of it passed to his daughter, it was sold at public auction in 1864, when D. C. Lent purchased it for the sum of $2,050.

Theroupon the plaintiffs—the Mayor, recorder, etc., of the City of New York—instituted proceedings to recover possession of the letter, and judgment was awarded in their favor. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of New York, which sustained the Judgment of the lower court.

Following is part of the syllabus of the case:

Watching the Senate.

The eyes of the people are on the Senate this year, and Senators who are disposed to put obstructions in the way of promary reform as embraced in the White and Gravatt brils, will doubtless be held to strict account two years from now. By all means let the Assembly give us an effective primary law, applicable to all parties.—Fredericksburg Free Lance.
